Defibrillator donated to
Colonel Light Gardens RSL Club

Community groups who use the Colonel Light Gardens RSL will be safer after they were presented with a defibrillator by Mike Richards of Mike Richards Consulting of CLG.

The automated external defibrillator (AED) was donated by Mike after he won the St John Ambulance AED at the PwC Melbourne Cup function in November.

Mike is an active member of the CLG Community Centre since moving into the area 12 years ago. Having made acquaintance with a number of the ex-service members over the years, he was pleased to donate the AED to such a community minded organization. “I felt the AED was something very important as many people use the club and the entire community will benefit from this life-saving device.”

St John Ambulance SA Chief Executive, Sharyn Mittten, said “with the generous support of people like Mike, we are able to continue the wide-spread introduction of AEDs into the community – in the event of cardiac arrest, having a defibrillator on hand could be the difference between life and death.”

Hank Dirksen, President of the CLG RSL accepted the AED on behalf of his members.
